NUNEL VALEMIK: A Monthly Volapük
Journal. Edited by G. KRAUSE. 3d.

LONDON: SWAN SONNENSCHNEIN & CO.

P R E F A C E .

THE progress which Volapük—though at a more moderate rate than elsewhere—has lately been making in English-speaking countries, will be an ample justification for advancing a step farther in placing before the English student of the Universal Language an adaptation of R. Kniele's German-Volapük Commercial Correspondence.

The arrangement of this adaptation differs, however, in some respects from the original. Instead of adding to all Volapük letters complete translations, or rather the original versions,* as Mr. Kniele has done, I have adopted the course of placing before the student simply the Volapük of the majority of the letters with notes for some of them, and of interspersing the former with English letters, likewise annotated, for translation into Volapük, so that this Correspondent may serve as a class book, as well as for private study, and give scope for practice in translating, not only into English, but also into Volapük. A small vocabulary of general and commercial terminology has at the same time been added for the convenience of the student. It cannot, of course, be asserted that the Volapük dictionary, though Mr. Schleyer's fourth edition contains nearly twenty thousand words, is as yet complete; but for ordinary correspondence it already answers its purpose, as is fully borne out by the fact that for some time past a number of mercantile houses in various parts of the world have been using Volapük as a medium of commercial intercourse.

A further useful addition to this English adaptation of Mr. Kniele's Tedaspod will be found in a list containing the nomenclature of the money, weights, and measures of the chief commercial nations in the world. This list, which includes a number of terms not to be found in Volapük dictionaries, has been specially sketched and arranged, for publication in this book, by the inventor himself; and it is with great pleasure that I record, at this place, my particular thanks to Mr. Schleyer for the trouble he has taken in the matter.

Dear Sir,

By your favour of the 17th inst., I learn with regret that the rock oil¹ which I sent you does not give satisfaction,² and that you wish me to dispose³ of it⁴ elsewhere.⁵

The cargo of rock oil out of which I chose for you those 5 casks arrived only a fortnight ago,⁶ and has already been sold with the exception of⁷ a few casks. Up to the present time⁸ not the least complaint⁹ has come from any part¹⁰ with regard to the quality of the same. Your objection¹¹ is, therefore, all the more¹² surprising.¹³

On receiving¹⁴ your letter I carefully examined¹⁵ the oil still unsold, and found it perfectly clear;¹⁶ for at 12½° R.¹⁷ it showed¹⁸ a specific gravity of 0·8.

Place the 5 casks in your store-house,¹⁹ and examine the quality after they have stood a few days.²⁰ I am convinced that then a different result will be found.²¹

Should you, however, not be able²² to make use of the oil, please send it back by the next train²³ which carries inflammable²⁴ goods.

Dear Sir,

In reply to your favour of the 17th inst., I beg to inform you that the copy¹ you sent me agrees² word for word³ with my own book. Only as regards the quantity⁴ there are here and there slight exceptions,⁵ which, however, are of⁶ no great importance,⁷ and on account of which⁸ no objection⁹ will be raised (e.g.¹⁰ $\frac{1}{4}$ doz.¹¹ instead of $\frac{1}{3}$ doz.) which may have been caused through consideration for the size¹² of the packing-cases.¹³

But you will see yourself that your copy does not agree with your invoice. I will therefore send for¹⁴ the goods from the railway company, and take out¹⁵ those which I ordered.¹⁶ Those you have sent in excess¹⁷ I will, according to your wish, return¹⁸ properly¹⁹ packed. Thus I hope this matter²⁰ will be settled²¹ to our mutual satisfaction.²²

I remain, yours truly,

Gentlemen,

Mr. Gottfried Genten, upon whose recommendation ¹ I write, has informed me that there is a vacancy ² in your office for a clerk, ³ for which I take the liberty to apply. ⁴

I have not yet had practical ⁵ experience ⁶ in any position ; but I can assure you that the knowledge ⁷ which I have acquired ⁸ will be sufficient to enable ⁹ me to satisfy all expectations, as, besides the German language, I am fully conversant with French, English, and Volapük, both as regards correspondence and conversation.

I am also acquainted with Shorthand. ¹⁰

The degree ¹¹ of my education is shown by the testimonials ¹² of which I enclose copies for your perusal. ¹³

If you should accept¹⁴ my services, you may rest assured that I shall make every effort, at all times, to fulfil my duties to your entire satisfaction.

Awaiting your favourable reply,

I am, Gentlemen,

Most respectfully yours,

RUDOLF ANTENBERG,

Messrs. A. & G. HARTMANN, Leipzig.

Dears Sirs,

I had the honour to receive your letter of the 5th inst., and am glad to say that I can give you the very best information with regard to Mr. Arthur Feather.

He is a very painstaking¹ young man, who utilizes all his spare time² to further improve³ himself, and during the three years of apprenticeship⁴ in my firm has gained my entire confidence.

I sanction⁵ his departure⁶ with reluctance,⁷ but I consider it absolutely necessary that he should⁸ look about⁹ the world; and as I do not wish in any way to be an impediment¹⁰ to his success, I shall not oppose¹¹ his immediate¹² departure, if you make it conditional¹³ that he enter upon¹⁴ his duties in your firm at once.

Whilst assuring you that I give you this information from¹⁵ sincere conviction,¹⁶

I remain, dear Sirs,

Yours truly,

VINCENT BROWN.
